

It works with one hand. Really cool.

Introducing the first one-hand solder paste dispenser.

It works like a miniature caulking gun. The only question is: "What to do with the other hand."

Here's how it works: Simply pop-in a solder paste syringe, release the back trigger, and ease the plunger into the holding position, and voila -- you ready go.

As you gently squeeze, you trigger the back spring, allowing the precise amount needed -- one drop at a time.

The Magnum One Hand Solder Paste Dispenser is designed and built by Magnum with you in mind -- enabling your team to perform faster, more expediently -- saving you time and money.

It's what you expect from Magnum. Efficiency where you need it.

The same Magnum Quality.
The same Magnum Dependability.
The same Magnum Performance.
The same Magnum Service.

You're probably wondering, why nobody ever thought of this before.
